

I like being able to get my internet service from a local company that gives excellent customer service. Please let companies like Sonic.net continue to flourish.